Movement Therapy News

If you would like any information on our Special Needs programs at Club Aviva, we now have a separate brochure available at the office with information on the types of programs and prices.

We are now accepting applications for our Movement Therapy summer programs. Please register at the office to guarantee your spot.

A new non-profit organization called the Tri-City Movement Therapy Society has been founded by Stephanie James, along with four others. The purpose of this society is to enhance opportunities in the area of Movement Therapy for children and families living with Autism and other disabilities. Anyone interested in joining this program should contact our office.

Over the past few years, Music Therapist, John Mews, has established both a strong knowledge basis as well as the practical skills to successfully work with a variety of children on the developmental disabilities spectrum. His empirical skills have been recognized by both families and professionals to be effective in assisting development critical communication, socialization, self expression and motor development skills.

John is very excited to practice and work with Club Aviva. If you would like to know more about how music therapy can enhance the lives of children please check out his website at www.mewsicmoves.com or call him directly at 778-888-0077.
