

Fall 2008 News

We are now a month into our Fall session! If you are not currently registered for classes but would like to be, you still have a chance to sign up. Club Aviva will be accepting registrations for new students up until halfway through the session, around November 15th. Please ask one of our office staff to find out if the class you are interested is still available.

We have good news! Online registration is now up and running. Please check out our brand new website, at www.clubaviva.ca. Some classes may not be available for online registration, if there is only one spot left in the class. If you are unable to register for a class online that appears to be available, please contact the office, and the staff will let you know if that class is still available. Monthly payments by credit card will be allowed with online registration.

NOTE: There will be no classes on October 12th or 13th for the Thanksgiving Weekend.

This is a change for the Sunday classes. To make up for the 13th, an extra class has been added to the end of January.

New Equipment

Many of you may have noticed that Club Aviva has some new equipment this year! Over the summer we did some renovations and changed the gym around a bit. There is a new tumble track and a new eco-friendly foam pit in the large gym, as well as a new trampoline in the small gym! We hope all of you enjoy the new equipment!

Drop Ins

Club Aviva's Fall drop-ins are back to the regular September – June schedule. For a full list of days/times, please see our Fall Brochure. All children and adults that have a current membership with us pay half price for the drop-ins. Friday and Saturday nights are a great time to drop your children off to play and have a night off for yourself!

Happy Halloween!

We would like to welcome children to wear their Halloween costumes to gymnastics class the week of Halloween, October 25th to 31st. Students will receive a treat at the end of class!

Movement Therapy News

We would like to welcome everyone back to the new season of Movement Therapy. Thanks to those of you who joined us for the Special Ed Summer Camps this year.

Club Aviva's Movement Therapy program is expanding. There are now over 40 students involved in the program.

The Movement Therapy Program is now a copyrighted program, called the Empowering Steps Movement Therapy Program.

The Club Aviva Empowering Steps Team did a weekend retreat at the end of the summer, and have come up with some new ideas for the program. Vivien and Will have set up a new assessment and curriculum for the program, which divides the learning steps into separate stages. If you would like to know more about the program, please talk to either Vivien or Will.

If you are interested in Movement Therapy for your child, we now have space available during the week with Will. To set up an assessment, please contact the office. If your child is currently enrolled in Movement Therapy, and you would like to add another day to your schedule, please let your coach know or contact the office.

A new non-profit society, called the Tri-City Movement Therapy Society has been set up by some of our Movement Therapy parents. The purpose of this society is to help families involved in Movement Therapy financially, by fundraising and applying for grants.

If your child is involved in Movement Therapy and you would like to join the society, please visit the office and pick up a membership form. There is a $5 fee per family per year to join the society. Club Aviva's office staff would be happy to pass your membership on to the Board.

Club Aviva Competitive News

The new competitive season has started! We are excited to announce that Andrew van Buuren has now taken over as our Head Coach!

We would like to welcome Kim Magdy to our team! Kim is a fantastic new addition to our team of Competitive Trampoline and Tumbling coaches.

We are happy to say that Nancy Beyer will continue as our Head Coach for Club Aviva's Artistic Gymnastics Team. She is also in charge of the Gymstart and Interclub pre-competitive programs.

Club Aviva's Gymstart Team has many new additions this year. We would like to give a big welcome to all of them!

For those of you who are new to our Competitive/Gymstart team, please note that all of the information about schedule changes, upcoming meets, etc. will be put in each athlete's individual box. The boxes are located outside of the office door to the right. Please check your box for new information each time you bring your child to gymnastics. You can also check the competitive bulletin board, which is next to the office door on the left side.

Good luck to Lauren Ensworth who will be attending the Indo Pacific Championships in New Zealand!!
